Chapter One

Reading is a conversation with the author.
A good reader marks the passages that matter
and writes down the thoughts they provoke.

Chapter Two

Notes turn passive reading into active thinking.

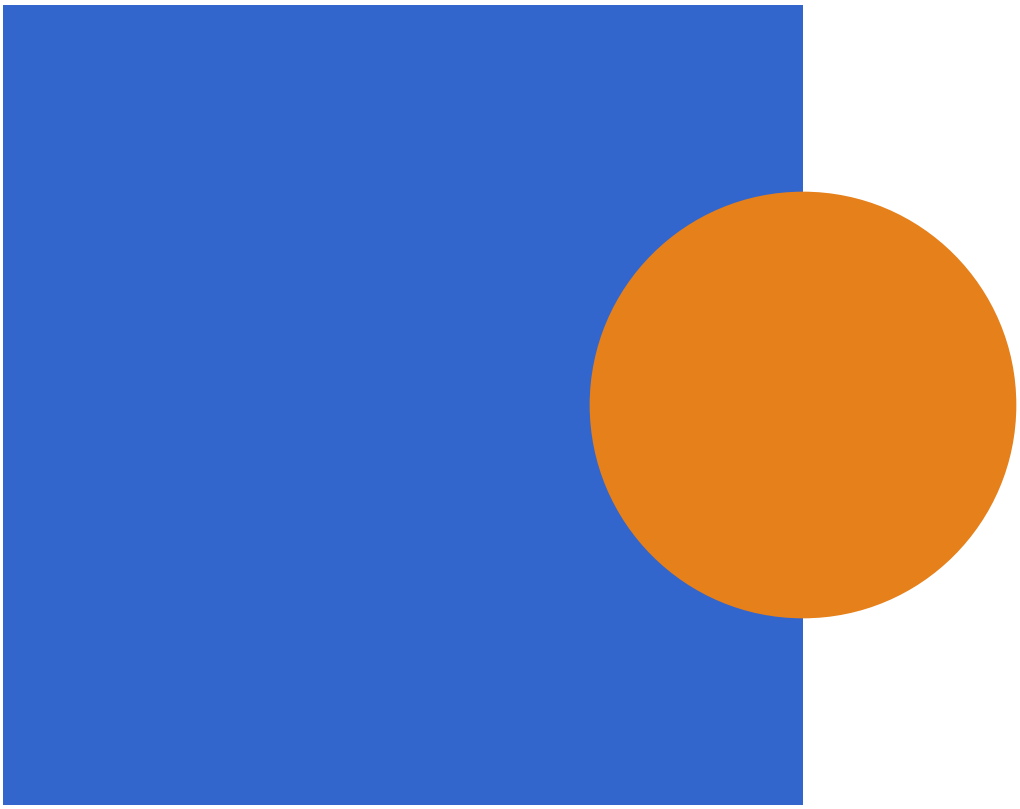
This sentence begins on page two and continues on page three without a break.

Chapter Three

The next page holds only a figure.



Chapter Four

After the figure, the text resumes.